

Dear Coordinators of all departments.

Monday evening the 18th of January at 18 o'clock a series of Socratic Dialogues will start.

From then on, there will be sessions every Monday evening till the 26th of April.

In a Socratic setting, students from all departments will think together and share thoughts on burning philosophical questions considering life, art and design.

We are looking for students who would like to participate!!!

Subscription is open for 2 or 3 students per department, preferably from different "vakjaren". Commitment is very important for the concentration and the depth of the dialogues. Students commit themselves to one group for 4 evenings in a row. They have to be present at all 4 evenings.

Every Group will consist of students from different years and departments.

Please inform your students about this project and let them contact me.

Thank you very much for your cooperation.

Hope to hear from you soon.

Best wishes, Rutger Emmelkamp.
